Investigation Suggests Spirits 'Live' in Library

By Marilou Newell

It's that time of the year when children begin planning their Halloween costumes in anticipation of shouting out that well known call of the wild, "Trick or treat!"

The Halloween festival season also brings to mind episodes of things that are unexplainable. Things like unusual noises coming from empty rooms, smells emitted from closed closet doors, voices, and apparitions. Some people are true believers in ghosts and spirits mingling with living, breathing people. Some people are not.

Either way, the team members of S.P.I.R.I.T.S of New England, a paranormal investigatory group, respect people's opinions on the subject. But if you have something going on in your home, these folks will provide an investigation at no cost. That may speak volumes on their commitment to acknowledging the presence of spirits or debunking such claims.

On October 5, the Mattapoisett Public Library invited Jack Kenna and Ellen MacNeil co-founders of S.P.I.R.I.T.S of New England, along with team members Sharon Koogler, another co-founder, and investigator Sarah Campbell to give a presentation on the subject of paranormal activity. During the group's visit to the library last year some "strange things" happened, Kenna said. This year, after the presentation, they would be searching once again for spirits in the heart of Mattapoisett.

Kenna's presentation was peppered with anecdotes of paranormal events the team has discovered. He told a story about being in a car accident after leaving an investigation at the Taft Public Library in Mendon. He said it was an example of what he called an "attachment." He said that he had neglected to remove spirits who might try to follow him by burning sage and dousing himself with the smoke. Next thing he knew, his car was involved in an accident near the site of a fatal accident

Some who have worked there think so, and now a few more are believers after another Halloween season paranormal investigation by the ghost hunting group S.P.I.R.I.T.S on October 5. some years prior. Kenna said he heard a spirit in his head saying, "Carlos ... here ... hit ... pain ... police."

"I think Carlos attached himself to the car," said Kenna. "He wanted to communicate with us."

Kenna was also clear that, at times, his group is able to disabuse people of their belief that spirits are in a building. For example, he told a story of an investigation where photographed "spirit" images turned out to be a stack of cleaning supplies in a closet.

"It's not always what you think it is," Kenna said. "As investigators, we need to dig deeper – have to be careful what you're claiming."

And while Kenna has enjoyed filming for reality television programs, in one episode the production company made it appear as though a spirit had possessed Kenna. Kenna explained what really happened.

Kenna said that he had asked a spirit how to communicate with him. "I started to feel shaky and like I had a fever, something I had never experienced before." He said that was the difference between reality and reality TV. According to Kenna, most of the time investigations are more like "watching grass grow."

In a follow-up, MacNeil told The Wanderer, "We are skeptics. A lot of times we can explain away what people think is happening. We want to help, to give comfort of knowing."

But Kenna did offer more than half a dozen cases where the team recorded audio of voices presumed to be those of spirits and videotaped evidence that seemed to confirm the presence of paranormal activity.

One of the more tender stories Kenna shared was an investigation aboard the USS Constitution.

While investigating witness testimony that voices spoke to some of the crew and shadows passed through rooms, Kenna was able to capture EVP – electronic voice phenomenon. On the audiotape, which he shared that night, are the voices Kenna says are of a sailor talking about the history of the ship. Then there is a pause, followed by another sound. Slowing down the audio to discern audible language, Kenna said it is the voice of a young boy who died while crewing on the ship in the 1800s. The child seems to be saying, "and a bear," adding to the historical narrative of the sailor. Kenna said this was clear evidence of paranormal activity since only someone living aboard the ship in that bygone era would know that a bear had been on the ship as a pet.

MacNeil shared that in 2010 while conducting an investigation, she experienced the presence of a spirit when it placed its hand on her shoulder. She explained that it was very rare for a spirit to actually touch a living person. She considers herself honored by the experience.

Liz Sherry, a librarian at the Mattapoisett Library, shared that there have been stories about unexplainable events taking place in the library for years.

"Items have been moved to the locked attic, books scattered on the floor, and, recently, someone screamed, but no one knew where it came from," said Sherry. She added, however, that she has never been fearful of being in the library, even alone.

Another time when the S.P.I.R.I.T.S team investigated the library, it captured some EVP evidence – a disembodied voice that seemed to be saying, "Calvin." It was confirmed that there had at one time been a janitor by that name, and another voice that responded, "a friend," when asked, "Who is there?"

So what happened this year when the team investigated? Well, if you don't want to be shocked, stopped reading now.

In a follow-up interview, Kenna reported that participants who joined the investigation were split up into two groups. Armed with ghost finding electronic equipment and the age-old dowsing rods, the group investigating the Children's Department found the presence of a man from the 1800s who died in a factory accident. Kenna said that by asking a series of questions the spirit was able to respond via an electronic processor that utilizes lights to interact with the living. The factory worker responded that he couldn't read, but enjoyed listening to stories being read to the children.

In a space near the conference room adjacent to the Children's Department, Kenna said his team picked up a male spirit and a child. They asked the child if it was responsible for knocking books off the shelves – the response was yes.

Library Director Sets 'SAILS' for Norfolk

By Jean Perry

The Elizabeth Taber Library is preparing to say farewell to its library director of five years, Elizabeth "Libby" O'Neill.

O'Neill, who resides in Mansfield, has accepted a position at the Norfolk Public Library, a bit closer to home.

"My main focus over the years was just to really have the library be the focal point in the community," said O'Neill, looking back over her time at the Taber Library. "To make it a place to gather, to socialize, and to really enjoy the programs and services that we offered."

Patrons of the Taber Library know the staff for their friendliness and helpfulness, including O'Neill's, something that she acknowledges is one of the reasons people enjoy spending time at the library.

"I really expected my staff to be welcoming and friendly and just as helpful as possible, and I think we achieved that," said O'Neill.

While O'Neill was library director at the Taber Library, patrons have enjoyed an umber of programs O'Neill implemented, such as the seed lending library, pot lock recipe meetings, the bike lending program, and clubs such as the Scrabble club and knitting club that still meet weekly.

"We'll miss Libby's energy and personality and the great programs that she created over the five years she's been here," said Jay Pateakos, president of the library's Board of Trustees. "The library was re-energized under Libby's watch and we know she will be a great addition in Norfolk."

As for the future director, "We'll be looking to find someone with similar energy," said Pateakos. "Someone who will enjoy coming into a small seaside town with a wonderful, newly renovated front entry way that will help make the Library front and center of the town."

Unless, of course, Pateakos added, a candidate steps forward from Marion, "Which would be great and mirror what happened six years ago when the last search committee took place."

"We'll need someone with an eye for creating great programs for the patrons and thinking outside of the box on how to get teenagers and those who rarely use the library back into its fold," said Pateakos. Some like Libby O'Neill, of course.

The Library Board of Trustees will post the job this week and start interviewing in November. The trustees hope to have a new director in place before the end of the year.

"I'm really going to miss the community," said O'Neill. "I feel like I've been more invested in the Marion community than the town that I live in because I'm just so passionate about Marion: I just love it there. It's been a wonderful five years."

But it doesn't have to be good-bye forever, said O'Neill.

"I truly am going to miss everyone that I've met and that I've worked with over the years, and I hope to stay in touch and continue to see people in Marion." After all, she will still be part of the SAILS network, perhaps even attending meetings out this way now and then, she hopes.

"I'll be sure to pop in and say hi," said O'Neill.

Huttleston Rogers' daughter who died at the young age of 17. It is a monumental memorial of architecture by Charles Brigham in Romanesque and Renaissance architecture.

On the wall of the reading room today is the masterpiece of a brass panel memorial replica of Mark Twain, a friend of Rogers. He is etched forever in time, sitting in a comfortable chair and reflectively smoking his pipe. Therein is a monument to the consequential meeting and lifetime friendship of these two prominent figureheads. Twain had become a world-famous writer, and Rogers had become a magnate in the oil business and principal financial benefactor to the Town of Fairhaven.

Rogers was born in Mattapoisett and grew up in Fairhaven to become the most successful and famous native son, a member of the first graduating class of Fairhaven High School. As a youth, he worked as a town clerk, and then a railroad baggage handler. But at the age of 22, his career turned the corner toward fortune when he went into the oil business, founding the Wamsutta Oil Refinery in Pennsylvania, and then eventually was made vice-president of Standard Oil.

Still, despite amassing a fortune of more than $100 million, Rogers never forgot who he was or where he came from. He had a grassroots quality that both he and Twain shared together, which was solid common ground for their friendship, as portrayed in my illustration.

Mark Twain was from an even more humble background as a laborer on the steamship docks of his birthplace, Hannibal, Missouri. He rose to apprentice captain of a Mississippi riverboat to begin a literary journey to meet William Dean Howell, editor of American magazine. Editor Howell would provide stewardship as Twain's remarkable editor and writing mentor for almost Twain's entire career. With Howell, The Adventures of Tom Sawyer and The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn were published in 1876 and 1885 respectfully. These and other works such as Pudd'nhead Wilson and A Yankee in King Arthur's Court began to skyrocket.

Twain's works have been taught, quoted, and reprinted more than any writer other than Shakespeare. However, by 1893 when he met Rogers, he was nearly bankrupt.

Like many national celebrities, he had fallen for too many get-rich schemes that profited only the false perpetrator of the investment. Rogers immediately untangled the gnarled web of Twain's misfortunes and financially bailed him out. It was a momentous favor to be returned by Twain's frequent appearance in local town events in Fairhaven as an indentured friend. He spoke during the commencement ceremony for the first graduation of the new high school, as well as dedication of the Millicent Library. Speaking to library board of trustees there, he can be quoted in his remarks, "This public library and others can be the most enduring of memorials because the literature of its temples are sacred to all creeds and inviolate. If other things pass away, there will still be libraries. When by mutations of language, the books that are in it now, will speak in a lost tongue to our posterity."

Researchers for Topics in Clinical Chiropractic found that for seniors age 75 and over, "Chiropractic users were less likely to have been hospitalized, less likely to have used a nursing home, more likely to report a better health status, more likely to exercise vigorously, and more likely to be mobile in the community. In addition, they were less likely to use prescription drugs."

Further supporting this improvement in quality of life, a study published in the Journal of Manipulative and Physiological Therapeutics found that Medicare patients who had regular chiropractic care "reported making only half the annual number of visits to medical providers compared with the national average for people age 65 years and over."

Rochester Adds New "Soft" Recycling Program

Rochester Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

In addition to the regular single-stream paper, plastic, and glass recycling collection, Rochester will soon participate in a new curbside recycling program for "soft" recyclables.

On October 4, the Rochester Board of Selectmen held a special meeting and signed a contract with WasteZero, a curbside recycling company, for a separate collection of wares considered "soft" recyclables – clothing, blankets, drapes and other textiles, as well as shoes, hats, small appliances, and small furniture – items that otherwise might have been thrown in the trash.

Beginning January 1, 2019, residents will be provided pink plastic bags to stuff with appropriate items, which are then placed on the curb next to the regular recycling bin on the regularly scheduled recycling pickup days. WasteZero vans will follow the same recycling route to collect any pink plastic bags stuffed with unwanted soft recyclables. Additional empty pink bags will be left behind for future pickups.

Participation in the soft recycling program is voluntary; however, the Town hopes residents will utilize the free service that could potentially keep some of those items from going in the trash, saving the Town money on solid waste disposal fees.

WasteZero provides this service at no cost to the Town, and even reimburses the Town $0.01 per pound of soft recyclables collected each month, or $20 per ton.

The contract with WasteZero is an initial term of three years, with the possibility of renewal for terms of one or three additional years.

WasteZero is responsible for providing the Town with program brochures for town-wide distribution to Rochester residents before implementation of the curbside soft recycling program. Items that will be accepted include clothing, jewelry, shoes, purses, hats, toys, pictures, mirrors, blankets, drapes, pillows, old

Planning Board Calls in $1.5 Million Surety

Mattapoisett Planning Board

By Marilou Newell

On October 3, the Mattapoisett Planning Board did something they have been contemplating for months, calling in a $1.5 million surety for a housing development built on what the board believes were empty promises.

Coming before the Planning Board on this night to discuss all matters related to Brandt Point Village, a single-family home subdivision that has seen investors and developers come and go over nearly 10 years, were Marc Marcus, the current investor and developer from Omega Financial and his attorney John McGreen. Also representing Marcus was Al Loomis of McKenzie Engineering.

Representing the Town was Jonathan Silverstein of KP Law and the Town's peer review consultant, Ken Motta of Field Engineering.

There were two matters relating to the subdivision on the evening's agenda: 1) a public hearing for modifications to the definitive subdivision plan, and 2) discussion and potential vote for Notice to Cure: Performance Secured by a Lender's Agreement – Default, potential vote to call surety.

Chairman Tom Tucker said before the opening of the public hearing that the surety issue would be taken first before the Planning Board would open the hearing for modifications to the plan of record.

Tucker cited numerous requests by the board since 2016 for work to be completed on Phase 1, and status updates on a punch list of things incomplete and pending.

"How many times have these drop dead dates ..." searching to find the words, Tucker continued, "Our job is to protect land owners and the Town of Mattapoissett."

Tucker asked the board to consider calling the surety now, as the August 1, 2018 deadline for completion of all work on Phase 1 had come and gone.

But McGreen asked that his client be allowed to give an update now, so that the board could first learn what Marcus was requesting in terms of site plan modifications before calling in the money.

Tucker was not moved to do so.

McGreen and Marcus were able to say that work had been taking place on Phase 1, including a complete reconstruction of the main roadway into the development.

Gail Carlson, a resident of the development and former Planning Board member, has come before the board on nearly a monthly basis for the past year, alerting the board that work was not taking place as scheduled. She shared what she and her fellow homeowners in Phase 1 consider incomplete conditions.

From a letter presented at the meeting, Carlson read in part, "This project has been a long, protracted, and problematic one since its inception. ... Brandt Island Realty Trust entered into a mutually agreeable time table on August 1, 2016 with a completion date of August 1,

At the 2016 meeting, the Planning Board released three lots in Phase 2 based on the agreement that by August 1, 2018 all work on Phase 1 would be completed or the surety could be called.

Carlson reported failures in the community's septic system, landscaped areas wild with weeds and construction debris, shabby exterior lighting with exposed wiring, along with other issues. Further, Carlson said that the homeowners had no representation in the Home Owners' Association that she said is controlled by the developers. She accused McGreen of slurring the residents during an August 2016 meeting when he allegedly said, "...in case the natives get restless."

Carlson read on: "Our quality of life and ability to fully enjoy our homes ... has been affected. ... We are embarrassed ... due to the overall disrepair of the area."

Of the three lots in Phase 2 that were released, Carlson and others said the buildings were incomplete shells now in a state of deterioration, adding further to a neighborhood in distress.

Carlson said the principals of the realty trust had not lived up to the agreement executed in August 2016 and asked the board members to move forward "with any legal means afforded to them."

McGreen asked if he could respond to Carlson's comments before the board moved to vote on the matter before them. He said that, because Carlson had been a board member, his client didn't want to attend requested meetings because, "We thought Ms. Carlson was using her leverage on the board."

Tucker responded, "She did not use any leverage – absolutely not!"

McGreen said that the majority of the complaints such as landscape and septic maintenance were the responsibility of the homeowners' association, to which Carlson retorted, "There isn't an HOA."

McGreen continued, "We are going to call the homeowners' association meeting to bring up everything here. They are going to pay their fair share." He said that the developer had been providing mowing and plowing services, which garnered snickers from the neighbors who

Carlson said had paid for plowing.

Planning Board member Janice Robbins said, "This is not the Town's problem. You made an agreement; you promised to complete. ... Tonight you are here because you knew (about the surety call)."

McGreen argued that the developer was paying for everything – a new entrance roadway, engineering, the peer review consultant, and even items he believed was the HOA's responsibility.

Marcus told the board, "We are hoping for relief (on items incomplete on Phase 1) on what we have so far so we can get occupancy permits (on Phase 2 structures)."

Tucker responded, "Work has to be completed. I can't believe you'll complete anything."

The surety was called by unanimous vote.

McGreen, along with Silverstein, discussed with the board the option of allowing the developer to draw down the $1.5 million surety amount by calculating the costs associated with completing work on Phase 1. The board agreed with this request, with Robbins saying, "The Town is entitled to the whole amount, minus any work."

With the surety called, monies would now be available to the Town, which may elect to hire their own contractor to complete Phase 1.

The hearing on site plan modifications and associated costs was continued to October 15.

The board members also discussed the draft medical marijuana bylaw. Planning Board Administrator Mary Crain asked the board to consider holding a public forum during the next regular meeting to vet the language, and a public hearing on a final bylaw amendment on November 5 in advance of the November 26 Special Town Meeting. All members were in agreement.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Planning Board is scheduled for October 15 at 7:00 pm in the town hall conference room.

Vaccinations Over Vaping ... For Now

Marion Board of Health

By Jean Perry

The Marion Board of Health has not forgotten about its agenda to ban flavored nicotine and tobacco products in Marion, products like flavored "e-liquid" vaping juice and flavored cigars, but the focus for now is on flu clinics to provide flu shots to residents who want one.

For the most part, Marion Health Agent Karen Walega said on October 9 that the flu clinics are "dominating everything" for the time being at the Marion Public Health Office. There has been a steady stream of residents seeking flu vaccinations, she told members of the Board of Health, and although there has been enough staff for the clinics at the Town House and the Council on Aging at the Community Center, the department had been "scrounging" a bit for staff.

When asked about whether the board would take up the matter of flavored nicotine any time soon, Walega reassured the public that, once flu shot season was over, the board would revisit the topic and continue towards a flavored tobacco and nicotine ban. Once a draft regulation is completed, the board will hold a public hearing for public input.

"There's just so much going on," Walega said. "We will get back to that: we just don't have the time right now."

Flu shots are free to Marion residents, sponsored by the Board of Health; however, donations are accepted. For more information about getting your flu shot you can call Public Health Nurse Kathleen Downey at 508-748-3530.

In other matters, the board approved a variance for a septic system for 295 Delano Road.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Health will be part of the Marion Rochester Regional Health District meeting scheduled for October 24 at 4:00 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Over 55 Development Slowly Moves Forward

Rochester Planning Board

By Marilou Newell

There was only one hearing on the agenda for the Rochester Planning Board on October 9. Continued from September 25 was the Special Residential Development proposed for Rounseville Road. The 22-duplex residential development planned for senior housing has been slowly processing through legal and regulatory entanglements associated with an existing conservation Order of Conditions, drainage issues associated with the Plumb Corner Mall, and the need for land legal swaps.

Coming before the Planning Board on this night was John Churchill, Jr. of JC Engineering, and Mike LaCava of REpurpose Properties to explain the current status of the project.

Churchill said that matters have been progressing slowly behind the scenes with Attorney Peter Paul working with the sellers. He also said that, based on feedback from people involved with historical preservation in town, they are working on new conceptual designs. He said that by Monday, he should have a letter from the trust granting REpurpose the right to move forward based on the execution of a pending agreement.

Churchill did share the positive news that soil at the Plumb Corner Mall had passed septic soil percolation testing and that they would have a formal submission by mid-November.

Planning Board Chairman Arnold Johnson said that the Planning Board was unable to review anything until a previously noted letter was in hand. He also asked that conceptual drawings be forwarded so the board members could review those in advance of a continuation of the hearing.

All agreed that, should the letter be received by the time of the January 8 meeting, more formal discussions could ensue on the conceptual plans and an escrow account for peer review consulting fees could be established.

Churchill said, "You guys have been great to work with." Johnson thanked him for the update.

Also coming before the board was an Approval Not Required Application outlined by Bob Rogers of G.A.F. Engineering. Rogers said the 6-acre site is planned to be subdivided into two building lots and one non-buildable lot. He said one lot is proposed to be the location of a new daycare facility. The application was approved as submitted.

The biggest conversation of the evening came when Zoning Board of Appeals Chairman Richard Cutler began discussing proposed changes to Zoning Bylaws. The Planning Board, as well as the ZBA, has been drafting new language for seven sections of the Town's regulatory document, all in the effort to make the text easier for those charged with enforcing the bylaws and for the applicants. Collectively, they began to review and decide what they were ready to send to the selectmen for their review and inclusion in the warrant for the upcoming November 19 Special Town Meeting.

But they got stuck when Cutler proposed a specific sentence to one bylaw.

Titled "Agricultural/Residential Guiding Principal and Objectives," the changes Cutler proposed didn't sit well with several Planning Board members.

Johnson asked, "How does this interact with our right to farm?"

Cutler said he wanted to have an opening statement to this bylaw section that would give people a clear idea of the intent of the bylaw. Calling it a “non-enforceable” principal, he said that adding the words “protecting the values of residential properties” to the agricultural residential district rules wouldn’t conflict with the Town’s Right To Farm status.

“I hate that language,” said Johnson. “The farmer has a right to farm as long as he is using good practices on his property. ... Maybe someone doesn’t like dust when the farmer plows his field in the spring,” he added.

Cutler said, “Remember, it’s agricultural and residential,” with an emphasis on ‘and.’

Planning Board member Chris Silveira said, “You can't have it both ways."

"Yes, the farmer does have the right, but doesn't have the right to infringe on residents," Planning Board member Gary Florindo said. "It's a balance, each have their share of duties to each other."

Planning Board member Ben Bailey said, "There are times when farmers go over the line."

Florindo opined, "We can argue this till the cows come home."

Johnson said that in his 19 years on the board, "No one has ever presented evidence of devalued property (due to a farm in close proximity)."

Johnson said he would ask town counsel to review the proposed language and try to come up with something everyone could agree with, but that it was not going to happen before the Special Town Meeting.

They also had difficulty accepting language changes in the form of definitions for "kitchens" and "living spaces." Cutler offered a kitchen as a room or any space in a room in a residence or commercial building where food is prepared. A living space was defined as any space that could be used year-round, was heated, and had electric service.

Bailey and Silveira both thought the language could be used by a zealous code enforcement officer who wanted to call their heated garages living spaces, especially if they contained a microwave, or as Silveira said, "[When] a guy puts a pot of chili on his wood stove in the garage."

Johnson said they would have to work on this, but also not before November's town meeting.

They did agree to send the following sections to the selectmen with language changes that all agreed were necessary: Ground-mounted solar Photovoltaic Installations Overlay District, Renewable or Alternative Energy Research and Development District, Table of Accessory Dimensional Regulations, Temporary Storage Units, Multi-family Zoning, and Codification Renumbering. These will be forwarded to the Board of Selectmen during the Monday, October 15 meeting.

Contract Talks Remain 'Convolutd'

Carver, Marion, Wareham Regional Refuse Disposal District

By Jean Perry

The top candidate for the executive director position and the representatives of the Carver, Marion, Wareham Regional Refuse Disposal District have yet to strike an employment contract deal, with negotiations now stretching into a seventh week.

The CMWRRDD wasn't sure last week if it was going to have a contract deal or if it was going to need to hold a special meeting last Thursday, but neither of the potential outcomes came to fruition; instead, according to Marion Town Administrator Paul Dawson, negotiations between the two parties continue as both sides are "still talking."

"No news," said Dawson during an October 9 phone interview. "But once something is decided one way or the other, we'll have to take it to the board either to confirm or to move on."

Dawson said the negotiations have been "convoluted" these past weeks.

Dawson, along with the town administrators of Carver and Wareham, have continued to work with Bernier to come to an agreement on an employment contract to fill the position left vacant after the CMWRRDD fired former executive director Ray Pickles.

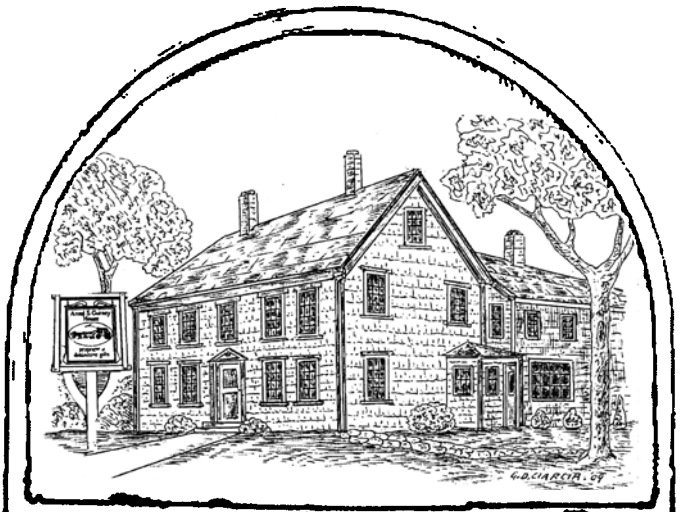

Pickles and his wife, Diane Bondi-Pickles, and former Carver Health Agent Robert Tinkham, Jr. are all defendants of several complaints of fraud and embezzlement filed by the CMWRRDD, having allegedly defrauded the district out of over $800,000 over a period of five years. Pickles, who is still the town clerk for the Town of Marion, also left behind years of mismanagement and missing financial files, which left the CMWRRDD board searching for the missing pieces of the last five years and wondering what to do about the future of the regionalized trash disposal district.

But as for now, Dawson could not say what that future would look like and whether or not Bernier would be a part of it.

are already a lock for the MIAA State Tournament, but they still hope to extend their winning streak.

"I think we've been playing great most of the games," Hughes said. "But some games when we play teams that are at a different level and we've been sticking to them when we could be putting games away and scoring more goals."

"We lost a lot of really talented players last year and the question was how was this group going to fill in," ORR girls soccer coach Jeff Lombard said. "And [I've] been really pleasantly surprised with how they've filled in, how they play together and how they're growing together."

Old Colony

Old Colony football bounced back from its 8-0 loss in the fourth week of the season by plowing through South Shore, 30-6.

Old Colony quarterback Kyle Scholz didn't attempt a single pass in the win, but he didn't need to, rushing for a team-high 173 yards on only 13 carries. He also found the back of the end zone twice, with Matt Bumpus scoring the Cougars' other offensive touchdown.

"It's nice to see him come along and progress," Old Colony coach Brandon Mendez said after Friday's win. "Hopefully it does something for his confidence. He's a good athlete. He's worked hard; hopefully, he continues that and continues to progress and get better."

"He's an energetic kid," Mendez continued. "He brings a lot of that to practice every day. We see a lot of that and are finally starting to put it together with the entire time. Hopefully, it springs — you know, if it's one guy each week that's fine if it's by committee, whatever works. Tonight it worked in (Scholz's) favor."

The Cougars also scored one defensive touchdown when Blake Dennison blocked a punt in the first quarter, recovered the ball and rushed 17 yards for the score. Dennison and the rest of the defense tied their season-best in points allowed, only surrendering six to the Vikings.

"We take a lot of pride in our defense," Mendez said. "So, not allowing a lot of points is something we pride ourselves on. We expect that. We expect to be physical, play assignments and really play stout defense."

Tabor Academy

Tabor Academy girls soccer walked away with a 2-2 tie in Saturday's matchup with Thayer Academy. Jaydah Bedoyah and Cat Barry scored the Seawolves' two goals, with Barry's coming in the 70th minute to salvage the tie. Following the tie, Tabor is now 5-1.

homes and buildings. The survey was funded one-half by the Sippican Historical Society and one-half by the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Due to the limits of funding, not all of the historic buildings were surveyed, but over 100 were catalogued and photographed.

The results of the survey are in digital form on the Massachusetts Historical Commission's website and in four binders in the Sippican Historical Society's office (and at the Marion Town Clerk's office).

Marion (Old Rochester) is one of the oldest towns in the United States, and the Sippican Historical Society maintains an extensive collection of documentation on its historic buildings. The Sippican Historical Society will preview one building a week so that the residents of Marion can understand more about its unique historical architecture.

This installment features 26 Pleasant Street. The Greek Revival residence at 26

Pleasant Street was owned by L. Berry in 1855 and, in 1879, by H.P. Babcock. In the late 19th century, this house was purchased by Ichabod N. Blankinship. Ichabod, born in 1817, grew up at 273 Converse Road, which was owned by his father, John Blankinship. Ichabod was a parishioner of the Universalist Church, a sympathizer of the anti-alcohol Temperance Movement and an ardent Democrat who voted for the Republican Abraham Lincoln in 1864. By 1903, J.B. Blankinship, an ice deliveryman, owned this home. Ichabod N. Blankinship died in 1909 at age 92.

of Transportation ("DOT") to reconstruct Industrial Drive and build a separated bike/pedestrian path from the North Street "Park and Ride" to the Marion Town line. Mattapoisett Town Administrator Michael Gagne described the project's benefits: "It will facilitate industrial and commercial development, improve public safety, and increase connectivity for bikers and walkers across the region."

Friends of the Bike Path identified the grant opportunity in late June through their contacts at East Coast Greenway, a national organization that promotes an off-road bike touring route from Maine to Florida. Friends' volunteers worked with the Town to define the proposal and meet the tight application deadline. The potential economic impact of the project is substantial due to new opportunities to build new or expanded facilities and add new jobs in a current industrial district of the Town. Letters of support came from Representative Bill Straus and the Massachusetts Secretary of Transportation who stressed the importance of economic development in the area. A team of volunteers, consultants, and Town staff are working to ensure that all eligibility requirements will be met. The date of grant award notification is December 18, 2018. If the Town is not awarded a grant and DOT does not commit all the money, the Town will be eligible to submit for a second round of funding.

The grant, called "BUILD," is administered by Federal Highways Administration. It is a funding opportunity for transportation projects that assist economic development and regional transportation connectivity. At least $450 million, and possibly more, is reserved for projects in rural American communities. Industrial Drive and the half mile to Marion are classified as rural areas. Rural communities often lose funding opportunities because of they lack organizational resources to apply for such funding. Much of the work of writing the grant was done by volunteers from the Friends of the Mattapoisett Bike Path.

If the Town is awarded a grant, the results would be:

1) A safe crossing of North Street plus a new bike lane or sidewalk near the Park and Ride;

2) A revised and safer vehicle intersection at Industrial Drive and North Street (with turning lanes, through-traffic lanes and islands to separate traffic), and;
 3) A separated path for bikes and pedestrians along Industrial Drive, including a "realignment" of the road so walking and biking will be on the north side of Industrial Drive, to avoid most driveways and trucks. The road work will allow Industrial Drive businesses to upgrade their sewer systems, introducing new opportunities for expansion and facilitating more diverse businesses.

The grant would include paving the existing gravel water service road east of Industrial Drive to Marion Town line where it would meet Marion's Bike/Ped Pathway, establishing an attractive connection to Marion on the Old Boston and Maine Railroad Right of Way and a 20-mile regional bike route on a car free bike path and low traffic rural/small town roads. All components have received some planning attention over the years.

The grant application shows how concurrently developing the bike path and the Industrial Drive Rehabilitation can improve public safety, recreational and tourist amenities, and economic activity in one complete project. Barry Denham, Mattapoisett's Highway Surveyor, who has overseen multiple road reconstruction projects, immediately saw the benefit of applying for the grant. "We are going to have to do the pre-design engineering work for reconstruction of Industrial Drive now over 50 years old, which is deteriorating due to heavy truck traffic. Doing the engineering work for the Shared-Use Path at the same time makes sense. This is just packaging several pieces together since they interconnect." The grant application emphasized that conducting all the work along this mile and a half would make for a more efficient project, reduce overall costs, minimize disruption, and be consistent with the federal BUILD ONCE philosophy.

Gagne explained, "A key part of the grant requirements is being 'shovel ready.' Federal funds will only be freed up if all permits are in hand by Fall of 2020. We want to have the engineers and experts working to produce the design, engineering and analysis in early 2019 so that permit submissions can be made well in advance of the 'shovel ready' deadline." The work is straight forward, but the review process could take some time. Some of the design costs could be reimbursed through the grant." He also noted that this is a "Smart Growth" project: "Construction at an already developed Industrial District near the highway exit will increase and diversify the town's tax base and provide job opportunities for residents while minimizing impacts to the residential character of the Town by being in a current existing town industrial district."

Poet Josephine Yu at the Mattapoissett Library

Josephine Yu will be reading at the Mattapoissett Free Public Library on Sunday, October 20 at 2:00 pm. The public is invited to hear this award-winning poet, author of Prayer Book of the Anxious. The reading and reception to follow is sponsored by the Friends of the Mattapoissett Library. Books will be available for purchase and signing.

"With a perceptiveness and poise that serve as a curative balm, Yu brilliantly tackles the notion of healing in a society that can make its most aware citizens ill," says the review in "Publishers Weekly." Her book won the 15th Annual Elixir Press Poetry Award.

On Friday, October 19 at 4:00 pm, Dr. Yu will deliver a lecture, "Sister Arts: A Discussion of Poetry and Paintings." Ekphrasis, from the Greek word meaning "sister art," is poetry that describes a painting or other work of art. From Homer to W.H. Auden, William Carlos Williams, Anne Sexton, and a variety of contemporary poets, we'll discuss the inspiration poets have found in paintings and how ekphrastic poems help us see artwork with new eyes.

The lecture, followed by a reception, is part of the Purrington Lecture Series, sponsored by the Mattapoissett Library Trust.

Yu is on the faculty of Keiser University in Tallahassee, Florida. She holds a PhD from Florida State University and an MFA from Georgia State University. She lives with her husband in Tallahassee, Florida.

Everyone is welcome to attend. The library is located at 7 Barstow Street and is handicapped accessible.

What's Happening at the Mattapoissett Congregational Church?

Over the last several weeks, there has been lots of activity at the Mechanic Street entrance to the Mattapoissett Congregational Church. You might wonder - what's going on here? In addition to the installation of a three-level lift at the wheelchair-accessible entrance on Church Street, a third lift is now under construction. FORM Construction has completed the foundation for the enclosed structure that will house the new lift. New stairs leading directly into Reynard Hall will also be constructed within the enclosure.

Next, the parking area along Mechanic Street will be re-graded and re-surfaced to allow for two handicapped-accessible parking spaces and enable all other spaces to have easier access to the new entry. The work is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The final project will be the renovation of two hallway bathrooms between the pastor's and the church offices. In order to minimize disruption to the normal operation of the church, work is expected to begin in the spring of 2019.

These projects, along with several infrastructure improvements, have been made possible by the fund-raising efforts of "A Welcome Home" capital campaign conducted in March 2016 and the amazing generosity of members of the congregation and community.

Sippican Lands Trust's Radio Tower Walk

Join the Sippican Lands Trust (SLT) for a tour of our Radio Tower property on Saturday, October 13 at 10:00 am. Local historian, Dick Evans, will kick off the walk with a short talk about the history of the Radio Tower property.

The walk will explore the site of what was once one of the largest telegraph stations in the world. The Radio Tower property features old radio tower foundations that once supported 400-foot antennas used by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America. These antennas received transatlantic wireless signals at the start of World War I and through the early 20th century.

The radio towers and transmitting equipment were removed from the site in the early 1960s and the property has now returned to its natural state. SLT acquired the 144-acre Radio Tower property in 1986.

The trail for the Radio Tower property is accessible from the Benson Brook Road, past the Marion Transfer Station, and parking is available in that area. Participants should gather near the SLT kiosk at the head of the trail. Please carpool if possible as parking is limited.

The walk is free, and no registration is required.

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

I'm confused about rabies vaccines for my dog and cat. I hear about 1,2 and 3 year vaccines. Whats the deal?

Talk to your vet about the specifics of their wellness programs, but the Massachusetts law requires that dogs and cats be vaccinated for rabies by 6 months of age. A booster shot should follow in 9 to 12 months. The second shot is good for three years assuming that the vaccine is licensed for 3 years. If the second shot is even a day late over the 12 month period the vaccine is automatically only legal for 1 year. So don't delay after getting a reminder card saying your pet is overdue for shots.

The same law applies to cats but some people prefer 1 year rabies shot in cats as a 3 year vaccines contain a substance that can cause cancer at the vaccination site in a very small percentage of cats. Again, talk to your vet about your preferences.

You can contact Dr. Gould at 508-758-6400 or visit our website at MattapoissettAH.com

Please bring water and dress appropriately for the day's weather as only the worst weather will cancel an SLT Walk.

If a walk is canceled, then information will be posted to SLT's website and Facebook page. For directions or further information, visit sippicanlandstrust.org or call Sippican Lands Trust at 508-748-3080.

SLT Approves Executive Officers

At a meeting of the Sippican Lands Trust (SLT)'s Board of Directors held on September 11, 2018, a new slate of Executive Officers was approved. The new Executive Officers are Alan Harris as President, Jonathan Howland as Vice President, Wayne Tirrell as Treasurer, Susannah Davis as Clerk, Kate Ross as Past President, and Randy Parker as Chair of the Stewardship Committee.

Alan Harris has served on the Sippican Lands Trust's Board of Directors for close to 20 years and is excited about his new role as President. Harris said that "I am looking forward to working with our dedicated Board of Directors. Our 45th year at Sippican Lands Trust (SLT) should be exceptional in providing opportunities to get out in our valuable Marion open space." Kate Ross, SLT's outgoing President, noted that "Harris has been involved in local, community conservation efforts for over two decades and his leadership will give SLT additional opportunities to expand its land conservation work in Marion."

Chris Bryant, Marian Howell, and Kellie Crete will be leaving as Executive Officers, but will continue to serve on the SLT Board of Directors. SLT's Executive Director, Jim Bride, "commended Bryant, Crete, and Howell for their strong service to the SLT Executive Committee and is thrilled to know that their combined knowledge and expertise will continue to serve the SLT board into the future." Bryant most recently served as Past President, Crete as Treasurer, and Howell as Clerk.

SLT has protected 1,350 acres of land in Marion and holds numerous walks and special events on its properties throughout the year. SLT is currently working on raising funds to build a 1,835-foot accessible boardwalk at its Osprey Marsh property.

Patrick James Spencer was a man with a giant heart, who loved his family unconditionally. Growing up in Lexington, Massachusetts, he was an avid sports player and fan, and a long-time fixture of the Hayden Recreation Centre, working as a camp counselor and a basketball coach for a boy's travel team in the late 1970s and early 1980s. A man with great wit, Patrick found humor in even the smallest of life's details and had a way of putting into words the thought everyone was thinking in a kind, humorous, and concise way. He loved watching and keeping score of March Madness basketball, cheering on Notre Dame football, Providence College basketball, and the New England Patriots. He loved rototilling in his garden and canning his homemade tomato sauce. He loved a good mystery audiobook or classic radio show to listen on his drive to work (and he loved solving the mystery before the characters in the story would). He was a huge music lover, particularly of one-hit wonders and easy listening music. But, above all, he loved his wife and children.

A 1981 graduate of Bentley College (now Bentley University), Patrick worked as an accountant for Minuteman Regional High School, where he met his wife, Denise. He was currently working as the School Business Administrator at Old Rochester Regional School District.

Patrick passed away on October 1, 2018, at the age of 59. Patrick was the beloved husband of Denise (Bramanti). He was the loving and proud father of Theresa of Billerica, Anthony of Pelham, NH and Phillip of Billerica. Son of the late Robert and Helenann Spencer. Brother of Matthew of Stratham, NH, Brian & his wife Robin of Lexington and Michael & his wife Janet of Duxbury. Son-in-law of Lucy & the late Joseph Bramanti of Burlington. Brother-in-law of the Bramantis; Peter & Peggy, Jay & Jeanne, Robert & Linda, Chris & Gretchen. Patrick is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Funeral from the Edward V Sullivan Funeral Home, 43 Winn St., Burlington was held on Saturday, Oct 6 followed by a Mass of Christian Burial in St. Margaret's Church, 111 Winn St., Burlington. Burial followed in Westview Cemetery, Lexington. Visiting hours were held at the Funeral Home on Friday, Oct. 5. Memorials in Patrick's name may be made to the Patrick Spencer Memorial Fund, c/o Northern Bank & Trust, 13 Center St., Burlington, MA 01803 or Alzheimer's Association, MA Chapter, 36 Cameron Ave., Cambridge, MA 02140 www.alzmass.org For online guestbook see www.sullivanfuneralhome.net & www.stmargaretburlington.org

Mr. Maksy was an iron worker and was a member of Ironworkers Local # 37 in Providence, RI. He was also a member of the Improved Order of Red Men, Cromesett Tribe # 156.

Survivors include his wife Deborah; his children, Donna and her husband David, Barbara, Emil, Bruce, Derek, and Daniel; 14 grandchildren, 9 great grandchildren and many nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by his sister Brenda and his brother Alfred.

MOVIE REVIEW

Fever Dream

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Suspiria* (1977). Starring Jessica Harper and Joan Bennett. Directed by Dario Argento. Running time: 98 minutes. No MPAA rating. Available on physical or streaming home media.

A little over an hour into the classic fever dream Suspiria, a killer comes after a frightened young woman we've grown to like, intending to dull his straight razor on her. She locks herself in a room, and the razor slides through the door opening and jiggles the latch. Jiggle, jiggle, for quite some time, as she stares at the blade with dread. We can see that the killer could easily flip the latch up with the razor, but that wouldn't serve the purpose of the scene, which is twofold. The plot-centered purpose is simply to scare the woman into fleeing through a window into another room, where an even uglier surprise is in store. The second purpose is purely aesthetic — the film's cowriter and director, Dario Argento, loves to draw out the suspense for its own cruel sake. We stare as if hypnotized as the woman backs away, backs away, at a crawl, futilely. Whether she moves fast or slow, death is still coming for her, as another character says in a different context later on.

Suspiria, whose modern remake arrives in American theaters next month, is probably Argento's masterpiece. The first in his Three Mothers trilogy — followed by 1980's Inferno and 2007's Mother of Tears — it seems to encompass everything he holds dear: art, music, architecture, elaborate death sequences. It's a death ballet, really, with various crescendos that function as nightmare logic. I mean, when we're talking about a drizzle of maggots falling on unsuspecting young women, the movie can try to explain it away as the headmistress (Joan Bennett) does, but Suspiria is no left-brain experience. I see, for instance, that I've made it some 300 words into this piece without mentioning that the movie takes place at a ballet academy, and that the star, the mildly agreeable Jessica Harper, is the school's new American student Suzy Bannion. Thinking back on Suspiria yields sense memories, electronic haunted-house sounds, stylish and outré brutality. It's possible to forget Harper is even in it, but it's not possible to forget the opening salvo of operatic violence.

Argento throws in maybe two quick scenes of dance practice, but ballet isn't really what he's interested in. He sets the movie in a ballet academy because it has dozens of comely young actresses to terrorize (and is run by older women who may or may not be witches). It's simplistic to call Argento a misogynist based on the baroque ways women are killed in his work. I believe him when he says he's trying to show how horrible violence against women is (despite his disconcerting habit of "playing" the killer's hands in his movies). I also think the murder scenes, the spikes in the heartbeat, can't help being beautiful and exciting. The extremely loud and almost cartoonishly ominous score by Goblin (Dawn of the Dead) and the hyper-rich, Disney-inspired color scheme by cinematographer Luciano Tovoli turn the violence into myth, fairy-tale, illustrations in some fiendish old leatherbound book of stories.

Argento is an artist and his art, like Hitchcock and Peckinpah, is the shock of sudden death, the blood and guts of mortality. Suspiria runs on spooky virtuosity that both confounds sense and forges its own internal sense. There's a room at the academy that's filled with barbed wire for some reason — sure, why not. I imagine Suspiria is also not the kind of movie that plays well with snarky modern audiences; there are just too many weird infelicities you have to agree to overlook, like the usual uncanny-valley Italian dubbing — the worst example being Udo Kier, dubbed in the U.S. release with an American accent, even though Kier is a German actor in a film set in Germany. The apocalyptic finale makes about as much sense as anything else; it feels right, though. The movie plays best when it comes off like a little kid telling a scary story, skipping around, giving you over-the-top gross-outs. It's less convincing in scenes where Harper goes around like a detective trying to get to the bottom of the strangeness. She won't, because the strangeness of Suspiria is bottomless.

'Music of the Macabre ... and More'

"It's creepy and it's kooky, mysterious, and spooky" ... it's "Music of the Macabre ... and More," a program on October 19 to benefit the Unitarian Universalist Society of Fairhaven.

The concert, a presentation of the church's Music Committee, will begin at 7:00 pm.

To get you into the spirit of Halloween, you'll be regaled with spine-tingling music on the organ, some melancholy (and amusing) piano compositions, a couple of tunes from "Jekyll & Hyde," traditional songs, a bit of ghoulish humor, and chilling stories and poems.

Performers include organist Dwight Thomas, pianist/vocalist Tim Evans, soprano Bonnie Brault, the church choir, and other talented members of the UUSF. Well-known storyteller Toby Dills will regale the audience with a spine-chilling tale.

The suggested donation is $10 for the program. Light refreshments will follow.

The church at 102 Green St. is handicapped accessible via a ramp off the Center Street driveway. For

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your Aries charm helps persuade others to listen to your proposal. But it's still a long way from acceptance, unless you can stand up to the tough questions that are set to follow.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Plan to share a weekend getaway from all the pressures of your hectic workaday world with a very special someone. You could be pleasantly surprised at what develops.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your keen insight once again helps you handle a challenging situation with a clearer perception of what it's really all about. What you learn helps you make a difficult decision.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) If you want to steer clear of getting involved in a new family dispute, say so. Your stand might cause hurt feelings for some, but overall, you'll be respected for your honesty.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Expect recognition for your efforts in getting a project into operation. Besides the more practical rewards, your Lion's heart will be warmed by the admiration of your colleagues.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Set aside time to rid yourself of clutter that might well be drawing down your creative energies. Consider asking someone to help you decide what stays and what goes.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A colleague could make a request that might place you in an awkward position with co-workers. Best advice: Share your concerns with an associate you can trust.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your energy levels are way up, allowing you to take on the added challenge of a task you've been hoping to secure. Expect this move to lead to an important opportunity.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Your continuing sense of confidence in what you've set out to do gives encouragement to others. Expect to see more people asking to add their efforts to yours.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might think it would be best to reject a suggestion that others insist would be unworkable. But you might be surprised by what you find if you give it a chance.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Changing a decision might disappoint some people, but the important thing is that you be honest with yourself. Don't go ahead with anything you have doubts about.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) There could be some fallout from an emotional confrontation that you really should deal with before moving on. Best to start fresh with a clean, clear slate.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your honesty not only helps you make decisions for yourself, but also helps others find the right choices for themselves.

50+ Job Seekers Networking Group

Area residents are invited to participate in a job-networking group specifically designed for individuals aged 50 years old and above. The group is geared to the needs of a range of participants including those unemployed, underemployed, unhappily employed, returning to the workforce after a gap, or retired and seeking a totally new career direction. Those looking for full- or part-time employment are welcome. There is no charge for the program.

Each session will focus on a different topic including assessing skills, developing a job search plan, revising resumes, creating a LinkedIn profile, interviewing, networking, and more. In addition to providing a supportive environment, the sessions will offer materials, strategies, techniques, and other resources, which can accelerate the often tedious and discouraging search for a job. The issues of ageism will also be integrated into each session to provide participants with an understanding of the age discrimination that is often experienced in the job search process.

The formal session will be from 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm. Participants are encouraged to arrive at 12:30 pm to check-in and for networking.

The program is funded by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs and managed by the Massachusetts Councils on Aging (MCOA) in partnership with the Acushnet and Marion Councils on Aging.

Meetings are held in Marion on the 1st Tuesday of each month and in Acushnet on the 3rd Tuesday.

Meetings are free of charge, but registration is required. To reserve your space visit:
www.mcoaonline.com/50plus.

For specific questions, contact: Heather Sylvia at 508-998-0280 or Karen Gregory at 508-748-3570.

COA will hold an Art Show and Sale on Saturday, October 20, at the Rochester Senior Center, 67 Dexter Lane, from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm. A portion of the sales will go to the Friends of the COA. Lunch will be available by the Friends. The following artists will be participating:

Helen Johnson is mainly self-taught. After retiring from teaching, she took a four-session workshop with local artist Kate Fuller for people who always wanted to try watercolor, but never had, and she was hooked on painting. Currently, Johnson paints with the Monday Morning Artists at the Rochester COA and the Canalside Artists at the Bourne COA and is a member of the Bourne-Wareham Art Association, Marion Art Center, and the Taunton Art Association. She has received awards from the Massachusetts State Art Contest for Seniors.

Exploring art in many areas since high school, Betty Beaulieu has studied with various local artists. The Rochester artist has focused her interest in local history by preserving past and present local scenes in watercolor and oil paintings. Her paintings have won awards in many local art shows. Betty is a member of the Marion Art Center, Taunton Art Association, the Canalside Artists, and Bourne-Wareham Art Association.

A graduate of Massachusetts College of Art, Jane Egan is a multifaceted artist who works with a variety of mediums, including oil paint, watercolor, and pastel. Among Egan's most recent accolades, she was awarded "Best of Show" for pastel works in both the Bourne-Wareham Art Association and Taunton Art Association member shows. Her pastel works have been juried into surrounding gallery exhibitions and national shows. Egan's works have also been on exhibit at the Marion Art Center. Egan is an active member of the Bourne-Wareham Art Association, Pastel Painters Society of Cape Cod, Taunton Art Association, Westport Art Group, Cape Cod Art Association, and Marion Art Center.

Jennifer Cipriano's artistic experience includes a preference for oil painting, but also other mediums, such as watercolor. She creates landscapes, botanical paintings, and animal renderings. She is a graduate of UMass Dartmouth - College of Fine Arts. She recently retired from a corporate position. She previously worked

Friendly Visitor Program

The Friendly Visitor Program of the Marion COA seeks to maximize independence and enrich the quality of life for isolated seniors within the community. The program provides screened and trained volunteers to visit seniors in their homes. Visitors support seniors through weekly contact, providing social support, and a connection to the community. All volunteers are screened through a CORI (Criminal History Systems Board) check. For more information, please contact Linda Aguiar at 508-748-3570.

'Love From Above' with Spiritual Medium Julie Clapp

Regionally acclaimed spiritual medium, Julie Clapp, will present "Love From Above" on Sunday, October 14 at the Knights of Columbus in Mattapoisett at 6:00 p.m. Join us for a night of spirit as audience members are connected with loved ones who have left this earth and have gone to Heaven. Tickets are $40 and can be purchased at www.eventbrite.com by searching "Love From Above with Spiritual Medium Julie Clapp." There will be a cash bar, light fare, and a raffle.

Proceeds from this event will go to support the young family of the late Mary Edwards Okeefe as they continue to adjust to the loss of Mary in now a single parent household. Mary fought a courageous battle with metastatic breast cancer and suffered a spinal cord injury that left her wheelchair-bound following surgery to remove a mass from her spine. She succumbed to the disease on July 4, 2018 at the age of 39.

From dancing in the Secret Garden to strolling through the Country Gardens, The Tri-County Symphonic Band explores the great outdoors in a concert entitled "Going Green." Flutist Leslie Neighbor Stroud will perform the enchanting Gary Schocker opus "Green Places" in the Dartmouth High School Auditorium on Sunday, February 10.

The Tri-County Symphonic Band commissioned Cape Cod composer Michael Donovan to write a piece that gives us musical perspective on the body of water that defines our area: "Postcards from Buzzards Bay." This seven-movement work takes us from Dartmouth to Woods Hole and brings to life the many ways that we encounter, embrace, and endure this wonderful bay. The concert will also feature other works written about the bay and about the sea and the Tri-County Symphonic Band will perform this concert twice: at Falmouth Academy on Saturday, March 23 and at Tabor Academy on Sunday, March 24.

The 17th Annual Tri-County Symphonic Band Benefit Pops Concert will be held at Tabor Academy on June 9 at 2:00 pm, in a grand tent, and will include music from movies, Broadway shows, and mainstream popular music of the 1950's. Join us for a program called "The

Elizabeth Taber Library Event: Table of Contents

The Elizabeth Taber Library in Marion is pleased to announce its 2018 Fall Fundraiser Event: Table of Contents. On two evenings in November, generous friends of the Elizabeth Taber Library will host literary-inspired dinners in their homes to raise money for the library's programming and resource expansion.

Each dinner is based on a book the host selects. Your choice of book will determine where you go. Lively discussion of the book will be the evening's focal point, in addition to meeting new friends and enjoying a delicious meal. Adding a bit of mystery to the event, the location and host are not revealed until a week before the event, after books and guests have been matched. What fun!

Guests are asked to choose two books from the list, in order of preference. Assignments will be made to accommodate date and book choices to the best of our abilities. Among the books for this year's event are both new releases and several older, but well-received, titles. The list includes: Educated: A Memoir by Tara Westover, Killers of the Flower Moon by David Grann, and Bear Town by Fredrik Backman. A complete list of books is included on the library website.

The dates for this year's event will be Sunday, November 4 at 6:00 pm and Friday, November 16 at 6:00 pm. Tickets are $50 per person and can be purchased online on the library website, elizabethtaberlibrary.org or in person at the library, 8 Spring Street, Marion. ### A Powerful Prayer to the Holy Spirit

Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days. The favor requested will be granted. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted.
Don't mention the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. B.H.

A PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

O Most Beautiful Flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful
Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly be-seach you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). O Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Amen. Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish; it will be granted to you. B.H.
